

GLI AUTORI

SIMONA CHIODO is Assistant Professor of Aesthetics at the Politecnico di Milano. Her research is focused on the relationship between áisthesis and epistéme, with a particular attention to its articulations developed by empiricism, logical empiricism and analytic philosophy. Among her publications: the books Io non cerco, trovo. Un empirismo contemporaneo (Bollati Boringhieri, 2011), Estetica dell'architettura (Carocci, 2011), La rappresentazione. Una risposta filosofica sulla verità dell'esperienza sensibile (Bruno Mondadori, 2008) and Visione o costruzione. Nelson Goodman e la filosofia analitica contemporanea (Led, 2006) and the edited books Natura e principi del gusto (by A. Alison, Aesthetica, 2011), Un realismo metafisico ragionevole (by W.P. Alston, Armando, 2010) and Che cosa è arte. La filosofia analitica e l'estetica (Utet, 2007).
simona.chiodo@polimi.it

PAOLO D'ANGELO is Full Professor of Aesthetics at the University of Roma Tre since September 2000. Graduated at the University of Roma Uno, "La Sapienza", he received his Ph.D. at the University of Bologna. He formerly taught at Messina University (1992-2000). He is editorial consultant for "Rivista di Filosofia", "Cultura Tedesca" and "Lebenswelt". He is now vice-president of the Società Italiana d'Estetica (SIE). His main areas of interest are: Aesthetics of the visual arts; environmental Aesthetics; analytic Aesthetics; history of Aesthetics; German philosophy; contemporary Italian philosophy. His most recent publications are: Estetica (Laterza, 2011), Filosofia del paesaggio (Quodlibet, 2010) and L'estetica italiana del Novecento (Laterza, 2007). He is also the editor of: Forme letterarie della filosofia (Carocci, 2012), Estetica e paesaggio (Il Mulino, 2009), Le arti nell'estetica analitica (Quodlibet, 2008) and Introduzione all'estetica analitica (Laterza, 2008).
dangelo@uniroma3.it

GIUSEPPE DI GIACOMO is Full Professor of Aesthetics at the Faculty of Philosophy, Letters, Humanities, Oriental Studies (F.I.L.E.SU.SO.), "Sapienza" University, Rome, and in the same Faculty he is a member of the Teaching Staff of the Ph.D. in Philosophy and History of Philosophy. He is charter member and member of the Warranty Committee of the Italian Society of Aesthetics (SIE). He is the Director of the book series “Figures of Aesthetics” (Alboversorio Publisher) and he is a member of the Scientific Committee of the following journals: “Paradigmi”, “Studi di Estetica”, “Rivista di Estetica”, “Estetica. Studi e Ricerche”, “Comprendre. Revista catalana de filosofia” and “Aesthetica Preprint”, editorial series of “Centro Internazionale Studi di Estetica” (“International Center of Aesthetics Studies”). He is the National Coordinator of the Observatory of History of Art of the Italian Society of Aesthetics and Coordinator of numerous University Research Projects of “Sapienza” University, Rome. Among his publications: Dalla logica all'estetica. Un saggio intorno a Wittgenstein (Parma, 1989), Icona e arte astratta. La questione dell'immagine tra presentazione e rappresentazione (Palermo, 1999), Estetica e letteratura. Il grande romanzo tra Ottocento e Novecento (Roma-Bari, 1999), Introduzione a Paul Klee (Roma-Bari, 2003), Alle origini dell'opera d'arte contemporanea (Roma-Bari, 2008), Beckett ultimo atto (Milano, 2009), Ripensare le immagini (Milano, 2009), Astrazione e astrazioni (Milano, 2010), L'oggetto nella pratica artistica (“Paradigmi”, 2, 2010), Narrazione e testimonianza. Quattro scrittori italiani del Novecento (Milano, 2012), Volti della memoria (Milano, 2012) and Kazimir Malevič. Una pittura radicale e una filosofia radicale (Roma, forthcoming).

Gli Autori

giuseppe.digiacomo@uniroma1.it

GIANNI OTTOLINI is Full Professor of Interior Design, and former Director of the Architectural Design Department at the Politecnico di Milano. He carried on historical and theoretical studies about interior and furniture design, particularly in domestic dwelling. He attended to international exhibitions of interior architecture models, and he was the Scientific Director of the following international researches and exhibitions: “Spaces and furniture of special housing”, “Civilization of living”, “Humantech. Design for humanization of technology”, “Artidesign furniture”, “Peripheries and new urbanism” and “Carlo De Carli. Lo spazio primario”. Among his latest publications: Il progetto delle residenze speciali. Spazi e arredi (Unicopli, 2008); La stanza (Silvana, 2010) and Carlo De Carli. Lo spazio primario (ESI, 2011).
gianni.ottolini@polimi.it

Gli Autori

WENDY STEINER is the Richard L. Fisher Professor of English at the University of Pennsylvania, past Chair of the Penn English Department, and Founding Director of the Penn Humanities Forum. Among her many books on modern literature and visual art are The real real thing: the model in the mirror of art (2010); Venus in exile: the rejection of beauty in twentieth-century art (2001); and The scandal of pleasure: art in an age of fundamentalism (listed among “New York Times’ 100 Best Books of 1996”). Her cultural criticism has appeared widely in U.S. and U.K. publications. Most recently, Wendy Steiner has turned to multimedia opera, as librettist and producer of The loathly lady (2009; music, Paul Richards; art, John Kindness) and Biennale (music, Paul Richards; art, Andrew Lucia), premiering in autumn 2013. Her current research is on the intersection of ethics and aesthetics in Village Health Works, an innovative architectural and social project in Burundi.
wsteiner@english.upenn.edu

FEDERICO VERCELLONE is Full Professor of Aesthetics at the University of Turin. His works deal with the relationship between aesthetics and contemporary hermeneutics, the history of nihilism in European thought and the tradition of German Romanticism. His most recent research is focused on the notion of morphology in order to provide a multidisciplinary approach to the concepts of form, image and phenomenon. He is a columnist for the Italian newspaper “La Stampa”. He is the editor of the series “Morphé” (published by Mimesis), with Olaf Breidbach. He is a member of the editorial board of the journals “Estetica”, “Iride”, “Iris”, “Tropos” and of the scientific committee of the series “Wissenschaftskultur um 1900” (edited by Franz Steiner). His most recent publications include: Introduzione a “Il nichilismo” (Laterza, 1992; German translation: Fink, 1998), Nature del tempo. Novalis e la forma poetica del romanticismo tedesco (Guerini, 1998), Estetica dell’Ottocento (Il Mulino, 1999; Portuguese translation: Estampa, 2000; Spanish translation: Machado, 2004), Morfologie del moderno. Saggi di ermeneutica dell’immagine (Il Melangolo, 2006), Oltre la bellezza (Il Mulino, 2008), Pensare per immagini (with Olaf Breidbach, Bruno Mondadori, 2010; new German edition: Fink, 2011) and Le ragioni della forma (Mimesis, 2011).
federico.vercellone@unito.it